In Mad Magazine Card Game, a player can play a card from their hand into the discard pile if it has the same number, color, picture, or message as the face-up card. Wild cards can be played on any card. If a player cannot—or chooses not to play—they take the first card off the deck and add it to their hand. If they can play the card they drew, they may do so. The winner is the first person to lose all their cards.
